Introduction

UC Merced is committed to providing a safe, healthy, and supportive learning and working environment for students and employees. The university takes seriously and understands its obligation to inform the campus community of available resources and support, as well as the educational, disciplinary, health, and legal consequences of abuse of alcohol and illegal drug use, for the benefit of the UC Merced community, and in compliance with relevant federal and state law. UC Merced's Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention Program (DAAPP) is intended to support student and employee health, safety and security by increasing awareness, preventing abuse, and decreasing potential drug and alcohol related crime.

This review is issued in accordance with the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act (DFSCA). On a biennial basis, UC Merced undertakes an internal review of its drug and alcohol abuse prevention program to do the following:

- Determine the program's effectiveness and implement changes to the program if changes are needed.
- Determine the number of drug and alcohol-related violations and fatalities that:
 - Occur on the institution's campus or as part of any of the institution's activities; or
 - Are reported to campus officials.
- Determine the number and type of sanctions that are imposed by the institution as a result of drug and alcohol-related violations and fatalities on the institution's campus or as a part of any of the institution's activities; and
- Ensure that the sanctions are consistently enforced.

Throughout this review, "employees" refers to all campus faculty, staff, and student employees.

Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities (OSRR)

The Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities at UC Merced supports student success through services designed to promote integrity, ethical decision making, effective communication, and conflict management in alignment with the Principles of Community. In addition to administering the Code of Student Conduct including the academic integrity process, our services center around student advocacy and agency. We teach students the skills necessary to engage in learning that encourages personal accountability, develops resilience and fosters a community of care.

OSRR Policies & Review:

The Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities, reviews policies, Student Code of Conduct, Clery, and California State laws annually. In the event that a student is charged with both Alcohol and Drug violations in the same case, the case statistics will be included under the Drugs category. Also, as a student can receive multiple sanctions for a single rule violation, the case statistic will be reported under the highest sanction in the resolution package.

OSRR AOD Goal:

Provide information and education about the Code of Conduct which includes policies regarding AOD; offer workshops during Integrity Week, and partner with Health Promotion on educational sanctions for AOD violations.

OSRR Programming/Campus Collaborations:

OSRR collaborates with Health Promotion, Fraternity and Sorority Life (Office of Student Involvement) and Housing and Residence Education to review and implement workshops used in adjudication. The following workshops were offered during this reporting period: Safe Partying, Fatal Vision Goggles, Preparing Know the Code Campaign (with resource referral information for spring 2025), the Good Neighbor, and Community Values & Decision Making.

Office of Student Involvement Fraternity and Sorority Life (FSL)

UC Merced provides a wide range of academic, social and community service activities. Fraternity or sorority membership is a good first step toward enjoying all the benefits college life has to offer. A fraternity/sorority is also a way to make the campus feel more like a home. With over 8% of undergraduate students affiliated, fraternities and sororities collectively constitute one of the largest student groups on campus. Membership is about traditions, learning valuable lessons and establishing life-long friendships.

FSL Policies & Review:

The Office of Student Involvement and Fraternity and Sorority Life, reviews policies, Fraternity and Sorority Life Handbook, and the Student Code of Conduct quarterly.

FSL AOD Goal:

To bring awareness to the FSL community regarding the dangers of AOD, to provide trainings and resources, and the disciplinary sanctions and administrative actions if a report were to be made.

FSL Programming/Campus Collaborations:

Fraternity and Sorority Life works with various departments in Student Affairs to provide resources and educational opportunities that support student success. On-going plan because it is offered at least each semester.

When the Fraternity and Sorority Life Coordinator receives a report of an alcohol or drug violation, it is immediately forwarded to the Office of Students Rights and Responsibility for student follow-up. Disciplinary sanctions and administrative actions may be imposed separately or in combination. Potential sanctions include, but are not limited to:

- Censure or warning
- Exclusion from areas of campus or official university functions
- Disciplinary probation
- Loss of privileges and exclusion from activities
- Restitution
- Special assignments
- Loss of university recognition

Additionally, Fraternity and Sorority Life requires every chapter to complete a program of Alcohol Awareness or Marijuana/Cannabis Usage with the Health Promotion office every academic year. Each chapter is required to have 90% of their active members complete the program.

Some Headquarters/Parent organizations of our fraternities and sororities require additional programming.

- Delta Gamma – Alcohol Safety & TIPS training (every 2 years)
- Pi Lambda Phi and Delta Epsilon Mu (Tight Rope Training)

Annual Notification for Distributing Programs and Policies

Alcohol and Other Drugs Data Evaluation Processes

Institutional Data Review

To better understand student health and well-being needs, UC Merced regularly surveys students about their behaviors related to alcohol and other drugs (AOD) use. Biannually, Health Promotion compares data collected from these surveys to national benchmarks and previous years' data to identify trends and gaps. These trends and gaps help inform Health Promotion department goals related to AOD. Health Promotion then identifies evidence-based initiatives that support the department goals and works to implement those programs until the next biannual data review.

Data sources:

- New Student Survey (Annually)
- National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE) (Biannually)
- UC Undergraduate Experience Survey (UCUES) (Biannually)
- American College Health Association-National College Health Assessment (ACHA-NCHA) (Biannually)
The survey is conducted in the spring of odd years. Health Promotion compares year over year data and national benchmarks (Healthy Campus objectives) to identify trends, priorities, and department goals.

Health Promotion Program Data Review

To understand the effectiveness of the Health Promotion department's AOD workshops, surveys are distributed to program participants. Data is informally reviewed throughout the academic year to determine if there are any minor adjustments that need to be made to the presentations. At the end of the academic year, a more formal assessment of the survey data is conducted to determine (1) the overall impact of the workshop, (2) if program goals were met, and (3) what changes need to be made to improve the program.

For social media campaigns, participation and program reach is tracked by number of views, likes, saved posts, and shares. At this time, Health Promotion is just collecting the data but is not assessing it. For example, we haven't set participation goals, and we don't have benchmarks to help us determine if our program participation is meeting standards. We also do not have a process in place to assess what students are learning by viewing Health Promotion's AOD social media campaigns.

Data sources:

- AlcoholEdu: Health Promotion is provided with a report during the summer. The report contains data from pre and post-test surveys students are given.
- Safe Party Presentation Survey: Participants who attend the mandatory Fraternity & Sorority Life “Safe Party” presentation are asked to complete a post-survey. At the end of every year, the survey results are reviewed to determine (1) if the learning outcomes were met, (2) what students report learning from the program, and (3) what areas need to be improved.
- Cannabis 101: Participants who attend this workshop are asked to complete a post-survey at the end of the presentation. At the end of each semester, the survey results are reviewed to determine (1) if learning outcomes were met, (2) what students report learning from the presentation, & (3) what can be improved for future presentations.

Recommendations/Goals for the Next Biennium 2025-2026

- Add Biennial report to Risk Services website.
- Enhance information sharing so students, staff, and faculty are aware of available resources.
- Consider options for standardizing and sharing student program assessment data within the AOD task force.
- Share outcomes from workshops and initiatives in the report.
- Based on Jed Foundation strategic plan, consider the following:
 - Enhance implementation process for the medical amnesty policy for students.
 - Develop a good neighbor policy for students on campus.
